

Female* Personal Assistant (Support Worker) Vacancy Details
Starting salary £9.00 per hour (£18,252 per annum (pro-rata))

Reference	AG201	Hours	18.75
Location	Inverleith, Edinburgh.	Duration	Permanent

We are currently seeking female* personal assistants to join a team of PAs who support a young man with a physical disability. He lives at home in Inverleith.

The job is varied and interesting: as well as supporting him with daily tasks such as bathing, dressing and meal preparation, his team accompany him to concerts, shows, and support him to maintain his interests in art, drama and film, keeping fit, and socialising with friends and family.

This young man also likes to travel and is supported to achieve this, this may mean being away from home for multiple days.

The ideal candidate will be positive and flexible, and will enjoy supporting people to live a full life. A driving licence is an essential requirement as the young man has his own car

Support is provided 7 days a week. The shifts run from 9am until 10pm, followed by a sleepover, and then from 7am to 9am the following morning.

This 18.75 hour vacancy is for one shift per week. However, the successful candidate should have the capacity to pick up extra shifts for cover, training etc.

The successful candidates will be provided with a training and development programme that is second to none and will be able to access a range of excellent employment benefits including a heavily subsidised health care scheme.

Applicants must have, or be willing to work towards a qualification meeting the standards required for registration with the Scottish Social Services Council (SSSC).

If you would like an informal chat about this vacancy please contact Andrew Smith on 0131 661 3366

*Exemption under Equality Act 2010